£195.00 + VAT

to include refreshments and lunch

Monday 12 April and
Monday 14 June 2010

The Royal College of Surgeons,
35-43 Lincoln's Inn Fields,
London WC2A 3PE

Overview: This one day workshop will provide you with information to help you improve the visual appearance of the NAC: nipple/areola complex for patients post breast reconstruction, after mastopexy and augmentation. By learning and understanding the latest techniques in medical tattooing as well as understanding the tools of your trade you will feel more confident in offering your patients a more realistic result.

Who should attend?: Anyone offering areola tattooing in the NHS and private sectors; surgeons, burns and plastics specialists; breast nurses, anaplastologists and maxillofacial prosthetists as well as Finishing Touches trained medical tattoo specialists. This is an advanced class for trained specialists only.

The day will be jointly hosted by Dawn Forshaw, Finishing Touches Managing Director, Mr Jonathan A Britto BSc MB MD FRCS (Plast), Consultant Plastic Surgeon at Great Ormond Street Hospital for Children (12 April), Mr Mysore Chandrashekar, Consultant Oncoplastic Breast Surgeon at the Royal Liverpool University Hospital (12 June) and Tarryn Vice, Colour & Medical Tattooing Specialist. Through ongoing investment, research, development and assessment of the market, Finishing Touches are proud to offer a range of cutting edge products, techniques, training and equipment, that are fully licensed/approved and of the highest standard. Directors Dawn Forshaw and Samantha Jones lead an innovative team whose approach has ensured that they stay one step ahead and have a reputation for delivering only the highest quality of services.
